

Chung Shan Medical University

Chung Shan Medical University (CSMU) is located in the area with the most development potential- Taichung city. It is an active, modern city with an international harbor, Taichung airport, pleasant weather, and of convenient transportation. To the railway station is only 5 minutes walk; Wu-jih Depot of Taiwan High Speed Rail is only 10 minutes driving distance. The station of Taichung Mass Rail Transit System is also near our school.

Contribution to the Society and Eminent Alumni

For the past 60 years, CSMU has educated numerous outstanding graduates. They devoted mostly to the medical care for societies all over the world. Many of our alumni also played a vital role in various leadership, like the Former Director of Department of Health in Executive Yuan, the Mayor of Taichung City, key cabinet members, Members of Parliament, and chairs in the related fields of medicine and dentistry.

About csmu

Total students: > 7,300
> 660 graduate students at M.S. and Ph.D
International students (incl. Chinese): 346 (From 22 countries and regions)
Number of the full-time faculty: 378 (Jan. 2019)
135 professors
113 associate professors
108 assistant professors
22 lecturers
> 95% of faculty members hold doctoral degrees

CSMU Hospital

CSMU Hospital offers students the professional facilities and clinical environments for practical training, promotes clinical research and development, and provides high quality of health care to patients. With the joint efforts of the medical, nursing and administrative personnel, it was accredited as a medical center by the Department of Health, Executive Yuan, passing the ISO 9002 and Health Mark certification, and consecutively granted The Certificate of Quality Prize from 2000 to 2006, National Biotechnology and Medical Care Awards

Scholarship

The maximum period of scholarship is the years required by applicant's department for undergraduate programs; two years for master programs; and four years for doctorate programs. The maximum amount is $40,000 NTD per academic year for each successful application.